

Vitoria-Gasteiz

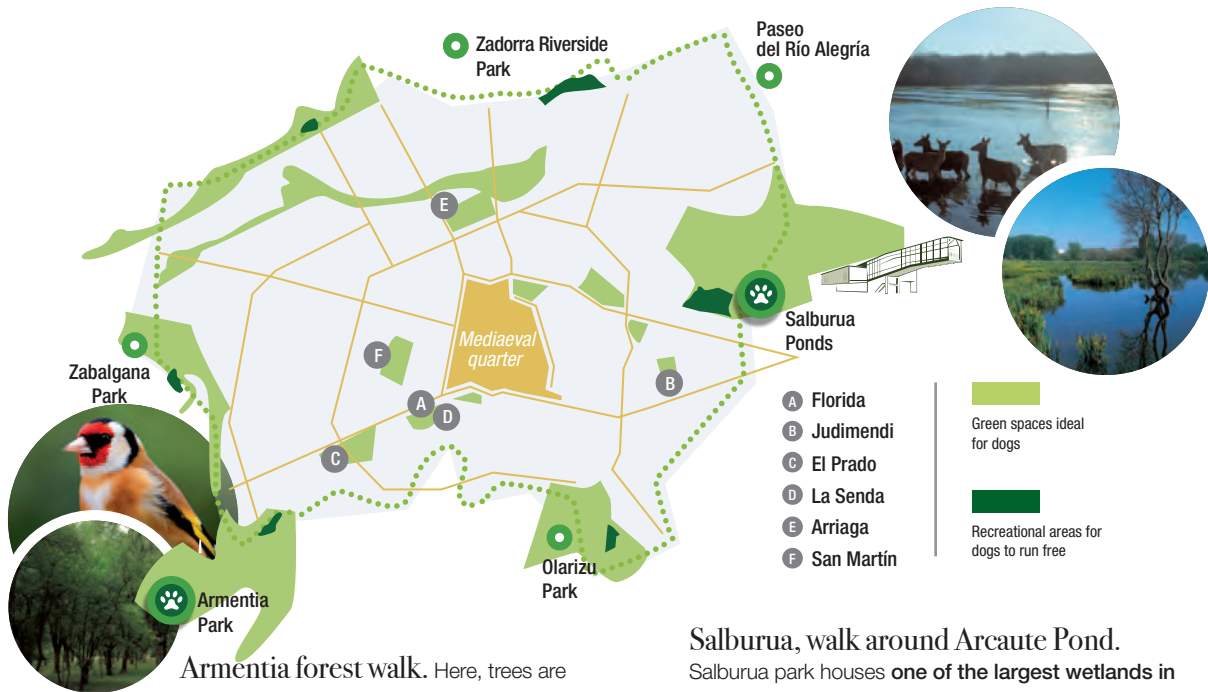

Capital of the Basque Country, founded in the 12th century, Vitoria-Gasteiz is today a comfortable, friendly city that offers impressive urban and suburban green areas, along with one of the most spectacular historic centres you could wish to visit.

The green belt and the Salburua wetlands

If your dog could decide which city to live in, green Vitoria-Gasteiz would definitely be among his/her favourites. The Green Belt that surrounds the city is an urban commitment, internationally renowned for combining parks, forests and wetlands of great ecological and scenic value with areas for the enjoyment of the inhabitants. Along the entire route, you can find rivers, streams, wetlands, forest-islands amongst cultivated land, and small towns typical of the plains of Alava, a stone's throw from the city.

 In the Green Belt (Salburua, Zabalzana, Olárizu, Armentia and Zadorra), due to pets interfering with the wild species, dogs must be on a leash except in specifically-marked areas that are indicated in the attached map.

You will find hundreds of routes and walks to enjoy together. Here, we have included a few examples. You can find more at www.turismo.euskadi.eus Armentia forest walk. Here, trees are king: your dog will discover the smell of maples, hawthorns, blackthorns and brambles, among others. This forest is also shelter to varied fauna: roebucks, boars, squirrels, birds of prey and small birds such as goldfinches, robins, etc.

 A 4.5 km-route where you can also admire the Tower of Eskibel and the Basilica of St. Prudencio.

Salburua, walk around Arcaute Pond. Salburua park houses one of the largest wetlands in Europe, just 3 km from the town centre. On this route, you can catch a close-up glimpse of a herd of deer and other species, such as European mink, eaglets, spatulas, etc. while you stroll through lush forests, wet marshmallow meadows, rushes...

 Circular route of 4 km. Can be completed in approximately 1 hour along a paved road

Perfect plan for: relaxing in the evening after an intense day discovering the centre of Vitoria, the best reward for you and your dog.

If you like cycling, you can ride around the city of Vitoria, following the Green Belt route, 30.8 km that are 100% cyclable. It can be completed in under 2 hours at an easy pace.

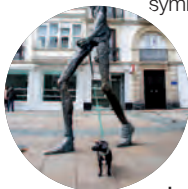

The Mediaeval Kernel-shaped Centre and “Ensanche”

This is the highest part of the city and largely pedestrian. We suggest a comfortable stroll for you and your dog, beginning in the streets of the the Ensanche and finishing in the historic quarter. All of this, dotted with parks and gardens, a must-see in one of the greenest cities in the European continent.

We begin the walk in Florida Park, strolling along the paths and skirting the Cathedral of María Inmaculada. Once your dog has had enough greenery, we begin to explore the Ensanche, with its wide pedestrian streets and lively window displays.

At the junction of two main streets, you will find Vitoria’s famous bronze sculpture, The Walker, three and a half metres high and the work of Juan Jose Eguizabal. A photo of your dog with this long and lanky man is a must.

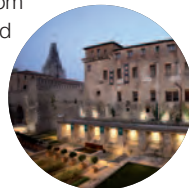

Strolling around the lively streets we come to Plaza España and Plaza de la Virgen Blanca.

We are at the doors of the Mediaeval Kernel (shape of the old quarter). Take you time to take a photo with the famous living plant sculpture, a real symbol of the city.

Once inside the Mediaeval Kernel, you will be transported to another era. Stroll at your leisure around Plaza del Machete and the Paseo de los Arquillos, as any of its streets will lead you to the Cathedral Santa María. You can take the mechanical escalator to travel from district to district, and from there admire the impressive Mediaeval Walls of the Cantón de las Carnicerías (meat district). You can always get your strength back with some tapas in Calle Cuchillería, one of the most lively tapas-bars streets in the city.

Estimated time: more than 2 hours relaxed walking, stopping to take photos and enjoy the pace of the city.

The perfect plan to begin a morning energetically and end it having something to eat as you relax on one of the magical streets of the ‘Mediaeval Almond’.

You can also do this route with your dog in Gasteiztxo. Active from July to October. See conditions at the tourist office (+34 945 161 598).

Ullibarri/Gamboa Reservoir, ready for a splash, doggiés
